

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC – BOWDOIN COLLEGE

EVENTS – FALL 2009

* * * * *

George Lopez, piano

Saturday, September 12 at 3:00 PM
Studzinski Recital Hall

Laureate of several international competitions including the Xavier Montsalvatge Competition for 20th Century Piano Music in Barcelona, George Lopez has performed extensively in Europe, South America, Japan and the U.S and has taught piano at Phillips Exeter Academy since 1999. He will perform the 24 études, opus 10 and opus 25 of Frédéric Chopin.

VentiCordi

Saturday, September 19 at 3:00 PM
Studzinski Recital Hall

An ensemble featuring Kathleen McNerney (oboe), Wren Saunders (bassoon), Dean Stein (violin) plus basso continuo will perform works by Bach, Zelenka and contemporary composer John Steinmetz.

Teatime Concert: Haydn Piano Trios

Friday, September 25 at 4:00 PM
Studzinski Recital Hall

This concert celebrates the bicentenary of the death of Franz Joseph Haydn with the performance of two his piano trios. Performers are Mary Hunter (violin), chair of Bowdoin's Music Department, James Parakilas (piano), chair of the Music Department at Bates, and Steven Witkin (cello), principal cellist of the Colby Symphony.

Teatime Concert: Hilary & Duncan Cumming, violin & piano

Friday, October 2 at 4:00 PM

Studzinski Recital Hall

Hilary Cumming, a graduate of Northwestern University and the University of Indiana, and her husband Duncan, a Maine native and graduate of Bates College and Boston University, are on the faculty of the University of Albany. The duo will perform works by Schubert, Brahms and Dvořák, as well as a piece by Bates composer William Matthews.

Dunya

Wednesday, October 14 at 7:30 PM

Studzinski Recital Hall

Dunya is a Boston-based ensemble devoted to presenting a wide variety of Turkish music, often in conversation with other Western and world musics. This performance will feature a trio of musicians playing the refined and spiritual music of the Ottoman court.

Ingrid Jensen, trumpet

And “Project O” with special guest Grace Kelly

Friday, October 23 at 7:30 PM

Studzinski Recital Hall

Trumpet-player and bandleader Ingrid Jensen, a native of Canada and graduate of Berklee College of Music, will lead the ensemble: Grace Kelly, sax; Jon Wikan, percussion; IJ, trumpet and effects; and, Gary Versace, organ and piano. The evening will be a diverse and adventurous journey, spanning the many available directions of jazz and groove music.

Bowdoin College Concert Band

John P. Morneau, director

Sunday, November 1 at 2:00 PM

Studzinski Recital Hall

DaPonte String Quartet

Saturday, November 7 at 7:30 PM
Studzinski Recital Hall

The quartet will present an all-Mendelssohn program, including newly-discovered fugues, with narration by Suzanne Nance. Admission (at the door only): Regular $25; Seniors $22; free for Bowdoin Friends, Bowdoin ID holders and those under 21.

Bates/Bowdoin Orchestra

Hiroya Miura & Roland Vazquez, directors
Saturday, November 14 at 7:30 PM
Olin Arts Center, Bates College
Sunday, November 15 at 3:00 PM
Studzinski Recital Hall, Bowdoin College

Bowdoin Chamber Choir

Friday, November 20 at 4:00 PM [NOTE NEW TIME!]
Saturday, November 21 at 3:00 PM
Bowdoin Chapel

The Bowdoin Chamber Choir, directed by Robert K. Greenlee, will present “Musical Flora and Fauna,” a concert including works by Gibbons, Stanford, Dello Joio, Randall Thompson and Eric Whitacre.

Bowdoin College Concert Band

John P. Morneau, director
Sunday, November 22 at 2:00 PM
Studzinski Recital Hall

Bowdoin Middle Eastern Ensemble

Eric LaPerna & Amos Libby, directors
Monday, November 30 at 8:00 PM
Studzinski Recital Hall

Bowdoin Chorus

Saturday & Sunday, December 5 & 6 at 2:30 PM
Studzinski Recital Hall

The Bowdoin Chorus directed by Anthony Antolini '63 with tenor soloist Martin Lescault performs Sergei Rachmaninoff's All-Night Vigil (Vespers), Opus 37. Written in 1915, this hour-long work for 8-part unaccompanied voices is considered Rachmaninoff's greatest choral work.

Jazz Ensembles

Frank Mauceri, director
Tuesday, December 8 at 7:30 PM
Studzinski Recital Hall

* * * * *

All events are open to the public; except where noted, admission is free of charge and there are no advance tickets or reserved seats.

Parking on city streets is available on Park Row and Old Bath Road. After 5:00 PM and on weekends, visitors may park in the Blue-Designated Faculty/Staff parking lots. Studzinski Recital Hall is handicapped accessible with a ramp to the lobby door (West side), near the circle on South Campus Drive.

All events are subject to change. To confirm dates and locations, to inquire about additional concerts, or to be added to our mailing list, please contact the Department of Music at (207) 798-4141 or lrussell@bowdoin.edu.

<http://www.bowdoin.edu/music>

Bowdoin College Department of Music
9200 College Station, Brunswick, Maine 04011-8492

Photo credits:

George Lopez

Hilary & Duncan Cumming

Ingrid Jensen (Angela Jiminez)

Roland Vazquez

Hiroya Miura

Bowdoin Chorus (Dennis Griggs)

Bowdoin Chamber Choir