The Latin text quoted at left has introduced Bowdoin’s Commencement Program since August 21, 1822. The names of the 24 graduates of the Class of 1822 were, for the most part, also translated into Latin for the program. In the early years of the College, each graduating senior was required to deliver a Commencement “part,” an oration on ancient or modern topics, which was frequently given in one of the classical languages, Latin, Greek, or Hebrew. The final Latin oration was given in 1893, but the tradition of Latin survives in the language used to dedicate the Commencement Exercises and to confer the bachelor of arts degree. The translation below was provided by Barbara Weiden Boyd, Henry Winkley Professor of Latin and Greek.

May it be good, felicitous, and well-omened:* To Paul LePage, esteemed Governor; to the Representatives and Senators who personally preside over the arts and letters for the State of Maine; and to the honorable and respected Trustees of Bowdoin College; to Barry Mills, distinguished President; to the entire academic senate; to the venerable religious leaders; in short, to all patrons of the human race everywhere, the young people hereby initiated into the arts and letters most humbly dedicate these exercises.

Held in a gathering of Bowdoin College, in Brunswick, in the State of Maine, on the seventh day before the Kalends of June, in the 2012th year of our well-being and in the 236th year of the authority of the United States of America.

* An ancient Roman formula used at the outset of a ritual to ensure its success.

HONORANDS OF THE 2012 COMMENCEMENT

MARGARET W. CONKEY, Doctor of Humane Letters (L.H.D.)

Margaret Conkey recently retired from active teaching as the Class of 1960 Professor of Undergraduate Education Chair in the Department of Anthropology at the University of California–Berkeley, where she taught for twenty-four years and served for thirteen years as director of the campus-wide Archaeological Research Facility. A past president of the Society for American Archaeology, she recently served as president of the Archaeology Division of the American Anthropological Association. A graduate of Mount Holyoke College with a master’s degree and doctorate from the University of Chicago, Conkey has carried out research in the caves, rock shelters, and open-air archaeology sites of southwestern Europe for many years. She directs a landscape archaeology and survey project in the French Midi-Pyrénées, where her team is recovering extensive traces of Paleolithic activities. Since 2006 her international team has been excavating the first intact open air site in the region, which dates to about 17,000 years ago. She served on the Scientific Advisory Committee for the French cave art site, the Grotte Chauvet, and was the first American to visit the site directly. Additionally, she has been centrally involved in bringing a more balanced view to the study and understanding of gender in archaeology and past human societies, and is a strong advocate for the feminist practice of archaeology.

AGNES GUND, Doctor of Fine Arts (D.F.A.)

Agnes Gund is president emerita of the Museum of Modern Art and chair of its International Council. She is also chair of MoMA PS1 Contemporary Art Center. She joined the MoMA board in 1976 and served as its president from 1991 to 2002. She is the founder and a trustee of Studio in a School Association, a nonprofit organization she established in 1977 in response to budget cuts that virtually eliminated arts classes from New York City public schools. In January 2012 she was appointed member of the New York State Council on the Arts. A philanthropist and collector of modern and contemporary art, Gund is chair of the Mayor’s Cultural Affairs Advisory Commission of New York City, and serves on the boards of Chess in the Schools, the Cleveland Museum of Art, the Foundation for Contemporary Arts, the Foundation for Art and Preservation in Embassies, the Robert Rauschenberg Foundation, and Socrates Sculpture Park, among others. A civic leader and staunch supporter of education, women’s issues, and environmental concerns, among other causes, she has served on the boards of such wide-ranging organizations as the Aaron Diamond AIDS Research Center and the Fund for Public Schools. She earned a bachelor of arts degree in history at Connecticut College and a master’s degree in art history at Harvard University.

CYNTHIA MCFADDEN ’78, Doctor of Humane Letters (L.H.D.)

Cynthia McFadden ’78 is the co-anchor for the ABC television network’s Nightline and Primetime Live programs. A summa cum laude graduate of Bowdoin and member of Phi Beta Kappa, she has been actively involved in the life of the College since her undergraduate days. While she was a student, she was a news editor for WBOR; a member of Masque and Gown, the Orient staff, the Curriculum Educational Policy Committee, the Governing Boards Education Program Committee, and the Alumni Council; and the recipient of the Woodbury Memorial Award for her scholarship and leadership. From 1986 to 1995 she was a member of the College’s Board of Overseers. She holds a J.D. degree from the Columbia University School of Law. Throughout her career, McFadden has covered many stories, including human rights abuses, interviews with world leaders, and coverage of important social issues that often go unreported in news media outlets. The list of topics includes the American government’s attempt to secure “loose” nuclear material worldwide, international trafficking in women and children, the forced sterilization of American citizens during World War II, groundwater contamination in two California towns, Medicaid fraud in Miami, and in-the-room coverage of death penalty trials. Her work has been honored with Emmy, Peabody, Dupont, and Foreign Press awards, among others.

Humaira Awais Shahid is a journalist, human rights activist, and Provincial legislator. She focuses primarily on human rights issues, and has been advocating, writing, and legislating against human rights abuses. Shahid is the first parliamentarian of the Provincial Assembly of the Punjab to pass a law (and repeal a former one) as a private member, an achievement that took more than four years in parliament facing sustained opposition from government departments. Her legislation, the Punjab Private Money Lending Act, 2007, prohibited interest-based private money lending in Punjab, Pakistan. Her law was replicated and adopted by the Provincial Assembly of the Khyber Pakhtunkhwa Province. She also passed many resolutions and is an active voice in the parliament against acid crimes, forced marriages, fundamental rights of women in Islam, and legal measures for the Punchayat system (village councils). She has been recently elected back to Provincial Assembly Punjab on one of the reserved women seats. As a 2009–2010 Fellow at Radcliffe Institute for Advanced Study, Harvard University, Shahid explored the subject of violence and women in the sociocultural context of the Muslim world, particularly Pakistan. She is also the lead advocate of International Violence against Women Act (IVAWA), a legislation moved in the U.S. Senate and Congress by a coalition of 150 women organizations worldwide.

CARRIE MAE WEEMS, Doctor of Fine Arts (D.F.A.)

Carrie Mae Weems, considered one of the most influential contemporary American artists, investigates yearning, loss, cultural identity, and the visual consequences of power in her artwork. From Here I Saw What Happened And I Cried, commissioned by the J. Paul Getty Museum, has been called “one of the masterpieces of our time.” Storytelling is a fundamental aspect of Weems’s work; it is a way to best express the human condition that has been a focus from her earliest documentary photographs. This characteristic continued through increasingly complex and layered works as she has endeavored to intertwine themes found in life—racial, sexual, and cultural identity and history. Long interested in the political, she has launched a public arts campaign that addresses the mounting violence in poor communities. She has exhibited extensively throughout the world and her works are in numerous public and private collections. A touring retrospective of her work, opening September 2012, will travel to major American museums and close at the Guggenheim. Weems earned her bachelor of arts degree at the California Institute of the Arts and a master of fine arts degree at the University of California–San Diego. She is a recipient of the prestigious Joseph H. Hazen Rome Prize Fellowship and in 2009 became a part of the Art 21 series featured nationally on PBS.

ACADEMIC APPAREL

The formal academic attire that distinguishes faculty and graduates at academic ceremonies is a symbol at once vertical and horizontal. It stretches back into history, to the roots of academic institutions, while at the same time it forms a bond of union among contemporary academic scholars.

The gown, cap, and hood, which would certainly seem quaint today if worn on our city streets, were originally the ordinary apparel of our medieval ancestors. The gowns varied in elegance according to the rank and wealth of the owners, and the hood had the practical function of being pulled over the head for warmth. Many of the medieval universities had strict rules on the subject; at Oxford, for example, the master of arts had to swear that he owned the dress prescribed for his degree and that he would wear it on all proper occasions. Undergraduates were required to wear their gowns whenever they appeared in the public street. After the sixteenth century in Europe different styles prevailed, but the older style was retained for certain legal, official, clerical, and, especially, academic uses.

In America the gown has been used to some extent since colonial times. It was only in the late nineteenth century, however, that widespread interest—sparked perhaps by the observance in 1886 of the 250th anniversary of the founding of Harvard—brought about several developments. In 1887 an enterprising member of the graduating class of Williams College designed academic gowns for the graduates to wear at the Commencement ceremony. The garb was significant and dignified; it was both traditional and democratic; it answered a need, and it quickly became popular. In 1895 an intercollegiate code, standardizing the design and the color of each part of the academic regalia, was accepted by nearly all American colleges and universities.

The gown is usually black, and the cut of the sleeves differs for bachelors, masters, and doctors. In addition, the doctor’s gown has panels of velvet (usually black) down the front and on the sleeves.

The cap is generally black, with a tassel, which is either black or the color of the field of study; a doctor’s may be gold. The most common style of cap is the Oxford “mortar board,” with a square flat top, but some variations are permitted.

The hood is the most distinctive part of the costume. It is made of black and trimmed with velvet. Both the length of the hood and the width of the trim vary with the level of the degree, the doctor’s being the longest and having the widest velvet border. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study in which the degree is earned: for example, white for arts and letters (bachelor of arts), dark blue for philosophy, brown for fine arts, golden yellow for science, scarlet for theology. The lining of the hood is the color and style of the university that confers the degree; these are all specified in the standard code of the American Council on Education. Bowdoin College’s lining is white and green to symbolize the Bowdoin pines.

Whatever the degree or university, those who don the gown and hood symbolically take their places in the long procession of scholars who have pursued truth and learning and passed it on to others. The consciousness of that fellowship is at once a reward for past efforts and an inspiration for the future.

RAISE SONGS TO BOWDOIN

Words by K. C. M. Sills, Class of 1901
New Lyrics by Anthony Antolini ’63
Music by C. T. Burnett
Arranged by Thornton W. Allen

Raise songs to Bowdoin, praise her fame,
And sound abroad her glorious name;
To Bowdoin, Bowdoin lift your song,
And may the music echo long
O’er whispering pines and campus fair
With sturdy might filling the air.
Bowdoin, from birth, our nurturer and friend
To thee we pledge our love again, again.

While now amid thy halls we stay
And breathe thy spirit day by day,
Oh may we thus full worthy be
To march in that proud company
Of poets, leaders and each one
Who brings thee fame by deeds well done.
Bowdoin, from birth, our nurturer and friend
To thee we pledge our love again, again.
