CONGRATULATIONS TO BOWDOIN’S
2015 NATIONAL FULBRIGHT STUDENTS

FULBRIGHT
ENGLISH TEACHING ASSISTANTSHIP
Fellows live in a foreign country for an academic year, improving cultural understanding between the US and their host country by teaching students English and actively involving themselves in their host communities. Fellows receive round-trip transportation, a living stipend, and other benefits. Seniors and alumni are encouraged to apply in early September.

STUDY/RESEARCH AWARD
Fellows live in a foreign country for an academic year and carry out a self-designed project, typically working with advisors at foreign universities or other institutes of higher learning. Projects are funded in both academic and arts fields. Fellows receive round-trip transportation, a living stipend, and other benefits. Seniors and alumni are encouraged to apply in early September.
