The Latin text quoted on the preceding page has introduced Bowdoin's Commencement Program since August 21, 1822. The names of the twenty-four graduates of the Class of 1822 were, for the most part, also translated into Latin for the program. In the early years of the College, each graduating senior was required to deliver a Commencement "part," an oration on ancient or modern topics, which was frequently given in one of the classical languages, Latin, Greek, or Hebrew. The final Latin oration was given in 1893, but the tradition of Latin survives in the language used to dedicate the Commencement Exercises and to confer the bachelor of arts degree. The translation below was provided by Associate Professor of Classics on the Henry Johnson Professorship Fund and Associate Curator for the Ancient Collection in the Museum of Art Jim Higginbotham.

May it be good, felicitous, and well-omened:*

To Janet Mills, esteemed Governor;
to the Representatives and Senators who personally preside over the arts and letters for the State of Maine;
and to the honorable and respected Trustees of Bowdoin College;
to Clayton Rose, distinguished President;
to the entire academic senate; to the venerable
religious leaders;
in short, to all patrons of the human race everywhere,
the young people hereby initiated into the arts and letters
most humbly dedicate these exercises.

Held in a gathering of Bowdoin College, in Brunswick, in the State of Maine, on the sixth day before the Kalends of June, in the 2023rd year of our well-being and in the 247th year of the authority of the United States of America.

* An ancient Roman formula used at the outset of a ritual to ensure its success.

This ancient formula is used by the President in conferring degrees:

Candidati pro gradu baccalaureali, assurgite.

Vir honorandus, hosce iuvenes, quos censeo idoneos primum ad gradum in artibus, nunc tibi offero, ut a te instructus, eos ad gradum istum admittam. Placetne? (Placet.)

Pro auctoritate mihi commissa, admitto vos ad primum gradum in artibus, et dono et concedo omnia iura, privilegia, honores atque dignitates, ad gradum istum pertinentia.

In cuius testimonium hasce membranas litteris scriptas accipite.

Candidates for the Baccalaureate degrees will rise.

(To the Chair of the Board of Trustees)

Honored sir, these young people whom I deem worthy of the first degree in Arts, I now present to you, that, if you so direct, I may admit them to that degree. Is such your will? (It is.)

(To the Candidates)

By virtue of the authority vested in me, I now admit you to the first degree in Arts and do grant and confer upon you all the rights, privileges, honors, and dignities pertaining to that degree.

In witness whereof, receive these diplomas.

NOTE: The Baccalaureate degrees are awarded individually, and the graduating class requests that there be no applause until the last degree is conferred.

HONORANDS OF THE 2023 COMMENCEMENT

STEPHEN F. GORMLEY '72, P'06, P'09, P'11, Doctor of Humane Letters (LHD)

Stephen F. Gormley '72, P'06, P'09, P'11, a former chair of the board of trustees (2010–2013) and a Bowdoin parent three times over, was elected to the board in 2001 and served until 2021. Throughout his decades of service to the College, he chaired the Financial Planning Committee and served on the Admissions and Financial Aid, Audit, Governance, Development and College Relations, Facilities and Properties, Gift Acceptance, Information Technology Advisory, Investment, Resources, and Student Affairs Committees. He was also a member of the Campaign Planning and Steering Committees for the Bowdoin Campaign and has chaired his Reunion Gift Committee. In 2009, he established the Gormley Career Services Endowment to support the operations of the College's Career Service Center (now Career Exploration and Development, or CXD). In 1998, Gormley established the Gene Lil Scholarship Fund, which gave preference to students from Aroostook County and then elsewhere in Maine. He has been a primary supporter of the Aroostook County Scholarship Fund, which was established by various donors during the New Century Campaign. Graduating from Bowdoin with a government major, Gormley began a career in commercial lending at First National Bank of Boston, later leaving to attend the Columbia University School of Business, where he earned his MBA. Gormley would join and later become partner at TA Associates in Boston, a small but leading firm in the early days of venture capital, where he focused on the media and telecommunications industries. He and three other partners left in 1986 to form Media Communications Partners, a new private equity firm focused exclusively on media and telecommunications. In 1999, Gormley cofounded Great Hill Partners, a private equity firm focused on business services with recurring revenue streams, digital media, and e-commerce. Gormley retired in 2011; he and his wife, Cindy, live in Marion, Massachusetts, and have three daughters, Margaret Donahue '06, Kate Saeli '09, and Caroline Nebergall '11, and seven grandchildren.

NAVARANA K'AVIGAK' SØRENSEN, Doctor of Humane Letters (LHD)

Navarana K'avigak' Sørensen has spent decades providing cultural expertise to researchers, authors, filmmakers, and politicians seeking to acquaint themselves with Inuit culture. She was born in Uummannaq (Thule), in northwest Greenland, to a family that is inextricably linked to the College. Sørensen's great uncle Odaq was the most accomplished of the four Inuit who helped Robert Peary and Matthew Henson travel to and from the North Pole safely, and her parents, K'avigak' and Amaúnalik, worked with Donald MacMillan on his 1923–1924 expedition and maintained a lifelong friendship with him. Sørensen's familial connections have allowed her to share Inuit perspectives and information about Inuit contributions to northern exploration. She has lent her expertise and acted as cultural liaison to institutions throughout the world, including Bowdoin's Peary-MacMillan Arctic Museum, where she provided insights into Inuit views and served as facilitator, interpreter, transcriber, and translator for interviews with Inuit elders, generously allowing the College to gain access to their perspectives and knowledge. She has served as curator of the Qaanaq Museum in Northwest Greenland and as a cultural educator for Adventure Canada. Along with director Stephen A. Smith, Sørensen was instrumental in the making of the acclaimed 2012 film Vanishing Point, which chronicled life in the Arctic for two remote communities linked by a migration from Baffin Island to Greenland. Now retired, Sørensen continues to be a collaborator and will also be part of a proposed project to work with MacMillan's journals and photographs to document the life histories of the Inughuit men and women he worked with, including her parents, to provide the oft-excluded Inuit perspective.

ROBERT F. WHITE '77, P'15, Doctor of Humane Letters (LHD)

Robert F. White '77, P'15, former chair of the board of trustees (2019–2022) and a Bowdoin parent, has provided nearly thirty years of service to the College. Elected to the Bowdoin College Board of Overseers in 1993, White became a trustee of the College in 1996 when Bowdoin adopted a unicameral form of governance. He has served on numerous trustee committees and more recently served on the Governance, Investment, and Beyond Bowdoin Committees. He previously chaired the Development and College Relations Committee (1996–1999). White also served as a member of his 40th Reunion Committee (2016–2017) and as a member of the past two Presidential Search Committees (2000–2001 and 2014–2015). In 2004–2009, White chaired Bowdoin's Campaign Planning Committee and, with trustee emerita Deborah Barker '80, P'16, he cochaired the Campaign Steering Committee for "The Bowdoin Campaign," which exceeded its goal of $250 million by raising $293 million. In addition to his service to Bowdoin, White has served on the Board of Dean's Advisors at Harvard Business School and on the Board of Governors at the London Business School. White began his career at Price Waterhouse & Co., where he obtained a CPA. In 1982, he earned an MBA at Harvard Business School and joined Bain & Company consulting. In 1984, White was a founding member of Bain Capital, where he served for twenty years as a managing director and where he is currently a special limited partner. In 2003, the other managing directors of Bain Capital honored White by establishing the Robert F. White Scholarship Fund at Bowdoin. White has been active in state and national politics in support of his former Bain Capital partner Mitt Romney. He served as chair of Romney's 1994 US Senate campaign, as chair of Governor Romney's 2002 Massachusetts Gubernatorial Transition Committee, and as senior advisor and chair of Romney's 2008 and 2012 presidential campaigns. Since 2014, White has been a member of the faculty in the Harvard Business School's entrepreneurial unit and also currently serves on the board of the Boston Celtics and was a founding director of Boston Celtics United for Social Justice. White and his wife, Tona, have six children and reside in Weston, Massachusetts. Their daughter Dana is a member of the Bowdoin Class of 2015.

JANET YANG, Doctor of Humane Letters (LHD)

Janet Yang is the president of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences and an Emmy and Golden Globe award-winning film and television producer. She was elected president in August 2022 following a long record of service to the Academy and is the first Asian American to hold the position. Yang played pivotal roles in connecting key players in the Hollywood and Chinese film industries to make possible films like Empire of the Sun before becoming a producer of films including The Joy Luck Club and The People vs. Larry Flynt. Known in Hollywood as “the godmother of Asian Americans in the industry,” Yang has devoted much of her time to helping Asians and Asian Americans break into and advance in the entertainment business. In 1998, she founded Janet Yang Productions, which develops screen projects with Asian themes, including the acclaimed 2020 animated feature Over the Moon. Committed to fostering global understanding, Yang is a cofounder of Gold House, a nonprofit collective of influential Asian cultural leaders; a longstanding member of the Committee of 100, an organization of prominent Chinese Americans; and an advisory board member of Asia Society Southern California, where she also chairs its highly regarded US-Asia Entertainment Summit. Born in Queens, New York, Yang grew up on Long Island and earned her bachelor's degree at Brown University. Prior to earning her MBA at Columbia, Yang, who is fluent in Mandarin, lived for a year and a half in China, serving as an editor and translator for the Chinese government's foreign press office. In 2020, Yang was appointed a presidential fellow at Loyola Marymount University; in 2022, she made The Hollywood Reporter's list of the 100 most powerful women in entertainment.

CLAYTON S. ROSE, Doctor of Humane Letters (LHD)

Clayton S. Rose, who has served as president of Bowdoin College since July 1, 2015, announced in April 2022 that he will step down on June 30, 2023. In his time as Bowdoin's fifteenth president, Rose has strengthened the intellectual mission of the College, vigorously championed “intellectual fearlessness,” significantly expanded the College's work to create diversity, equity, and inclusion, increased access and opportunity for students, addressed the mental health challenge facing the current generation of students and young people, reimagined and significantly expanded career development, and enhanced and strengthened the College's leadership in sustainability. His tenure also saw construction of essential new facilities for teaching, learning, research, residential life, and athletics. Three new facilities—the Roux Center for the Environment, the Schiller Coastal Studies Center, and the John and Lile Gibbons Center for Arctic Studies—along with the Bowdoin Scientific Station established in 1936 on Kent Island in the Bay of Fundy, position Bowdoin to significantly advance its work and leadership in the interdisciplinary and interconnected studies of the oceans, environment, climate, and the Arctic. During his presidency, applications increased by 38 percent. Students of color increased from 30 percent to 43 percent, first-generation students from 10 to 17 percent, and first-year students receiving financial aid increased from 45 to 49 percent. The THRIVE program was also established during Clayton's tenure, to address the needs of students entering Bowdoin from significantly under-resourced high schools, and Bowdoin launched an effort to actively recruit veterans and community college students for admission to the College. Rose led Bowdoin through the COVID-19 pandemic, during which the College successfully delivered on its two goals of protecting the health and safety of the campus and larger Brunswick communities and providing a strong Bowdoin education to its students, while also continuing its work on the priorities for the future. Prior to arriving at Bowdoin, Rose served on the faculty of the Harvard Business School, where he taught and wrote on issues of leadership, ethics, the financial crisis that began in 2008, and the role of business in society. He spent the first twenty years of his career in finance, retiring as vice chairman at J.P. Morgan. He earned his undergraduate degree (1980) and MBA (1981) at the University of Chicago. In 2003, following his business career, he enrolled in the doctoral program in sociology at the University of Pennsylvania to study issues of race in America, earning his master's degree in 2005 and his PhD with distinction in 2007. He is a member of the board of directors of Bank of America and is the chair of the board of trustees of the Howard Hughes Medical Institute. For the past eight years of his presidency, Rose and his wife, Julianne, have lived on the Bowdoin campus.

ACADEMIC APPAREL

The formal academic attire that distinguishes faculty and graduates at academic ceremonies is a symbol at once vertical and horizontal. It stretches back into history, to the roots of academic institutions, while at the same time it forms a bond of union among contemporary academic scholars.

The gown, cap, and hood, which would certainly seem quaint today if worn on our city streets, were originally the ordinary apparel of our medieval ancestors. The gowns varied in elegance according to the rank and wealth of the owners, and the hood had the practical function of being pulled over the head for warmth. Many of the medieval universities had strict rules on the subject; at Oxford, for example, the master of arts had to swear that he owned the dress prescribed for his degree and that he would wear it on all proper occasions. Undergraduates were required to wear their gowns whenever they appeared in the public street. After the sixteenth century in Europe different styles prevailed, but the older style was retained for certain legal, official, clerical, and, especially, academic uses.

In America the gown has been used to some extent since colonial times. It was only in the late nineteenth century, however, that widespread interest—sparked perhaps by the observance in 1886 of the 250th anniversary of the founding of Harvard—brought about several developments. In 1887 an enterprising member of the graduating class of Williams College designed academic gowns for the graduates to wear at the Commencement ceremony. The garb was significant and dignified; it was both traditional and democratic; it answered a need, and it quickly became popular. In 1895 an intercollegiate code, standardizing the design and the color of each part of the academic regalia, was accepted by nearly all American colleges and universities.

The gown is usually black, and the cut of the sleeves differs for bachelors, masters, and doctors. In addition, the doctor's gown has panels of velvet (usually black) down the front and on the sleeves.

The cap is generally black, with a tassel, which is either black or the color of the field of study; a doctor's may be gold. The most common style of cap is the Oxford "mortar board," with a square flat top, but some variations are permitted.

The hood is the most distinctive part of the costume. It is made of black and trimmed with velvet. Both the length of the hood and the width of the trim vary with the level of the degree, the doctor's being the longest and having the widest velvet border. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study in which the degree is earned: for example, white for arts and letters (bachelor of arts), dark blue for philosophy, brown for fine arts, golden yellow for science, scarlet for theology. The lining of the hood is the color and style of the university that confers the degree; these are all specified in the standard code of the American Council on Education. Bowdoin College's lining is white and green to symbolize the Bowdoin pines.

Whatever the degree or university, those who don the gown and hood symbolically take their places in the long procession of scholars who have pursued truth and learning and passed it on to others. The consciousness of that fellowship is at once a reward for past efforts and an inspiration for the future.

RAISE SONGS TO BOWDOIN

Words by K. C. M. Sills, Class of 1901

New Lyrics by Anthony Antolini '63

Music by C. T. Burnett

Arranged by Thornton W. Allen

Raise songs to Bowdoin, praise her fame,
And sound abroad her glorious name;
To Bowdoin, Bowdoin lift your song,
And may the music echo long
O'er whispering pines and campus fair
With sturdy might filling the air.
Bowdoin, from birth, our nurturer and friend
To thee we pledge our love again, again.

While now amid thy halls we stay
And breathe thy spirit day by day,
Oh may we thus full worthy be
To march in that proud company
Of poets, leaders and each one
Who brings thee fame by deeds well done.
Bowdoin, from birth, our nurturer and friend
To thee we pledge our love again, again.
