The Latin text quoted above has introduced Bowdoin's Commencement Program since August 21, 1822. The names of the 24 graduates of the Class of 1822 were, for the most part, also translated into Latin for the program. In the early years of the College, each graduating senior was required to deliver a Commencement "part," an oration on ancient or modern topics, which was frequently given in one of the classical languages, Latin, Greek, or Hebrew. The final Latin oration was given in 1893, but the tradition of Latin survives in the language used to dedicate the Commencement Exercises and to confer the bachelor of arts degree. The translation below was provided by Barbara Weiden Boyd, Henry Winkley Professor of Latin and Greek.

May it be good, felicitous, and well-omened:

[an ancient Roman formula used at the outset of a ritual to ensure its success]

To John Baldacci, esteemed Governor; to the Representatives and Senators who personally preside over the arts and letters for the State of Maine;
and to the honorable and respected Trustees of Bowdoin College;
to Barry Mills, distinguished President;
to the entire academic senate; to the venerable religious leaders;
in short, to all patrons of the human race everywhere,
the young people hereby initiated into the arts and letters most humbly dedicate these exercises.

Held in a gathering of Bowdoin College, in Brunswick, in the State of Maine, on the ninth day before the Kalends of June, in the 2008th year of our well-being and in the 232nd year of the authority of the United States of America.

DEGREES

This ancient formula is used by the President in conferring degrees:

Candidati pro gradu baccalaureali, assurgite.

Vir honorande, hosce iuvenes, quos censeo idoneos primum ad gradum in artibus, nunc tibi offero, ut a te instructus, eos ad gradum istum admittam. Placetne? (Placet.)

Pro auctoritate mihi commissa, admitto vos ad primum gradum in artibus, et dono et concedo omnia iura, privilegia, honores atque dignitates, ad gradum istum pertinentia.

In cuius testimonium hasce membranas litteris scriptas accipite.

Candidates for the Baccalaureate degrees will rise.

(To the Chair of the Board of Trustees) Honored sir, these young people whom I deem worthy of the first degree in Arts, I now present to you, that, if you so direct, I may admit them to that degree. Is such your will? (It is.)

(To the Candidates) By virtue of the authority vested in me, I now admit you to the first degree in Arts and do grant and confer upon you all the rights, privileges, honors, and dignities pertaining to that degree.

In witness whereof, receive these diplomas.

NOTE: The Baccalaureate degrees are awarded individually, and the graduating class requests that there be no applause until the last degree is conferred.

At the Commencement Exercises, Bowdoin displays the College flag and the flags of the United States of America, the State of Maine, and the home or dual-citizenship countries or territories of graduating students—in 2008, Barbados, Canada, France, Germany, Hong Kong Special Administrative Region, India, Ireland, Italy, Japan, Lebanon, Malaysia, Monaco, Mexico, Nepal, Pakistan, People's Republic of China, Republic of Korea, Romania, Republic of Singapore, Spain, Thailand, Turkey, United Arab Emirates, and United Kingdom.

HONORANDS OF THE 2008 COMMENCEMENT

PETER BUCK '52
DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS (L.H.D.)

Peter Buck is a nuclear physicist and philanthropist who is perhaps best known as the co-founder of the Subway franchise restaurant chain. A native of South Portland, Maine, he earned master's and doctoral degrees in physics at Columbia University. From 1957 to 1978 he held positions as a nuclear physicist with several companies. In 1965 he made entrepreneurial history when he loaned a seventeen-year-old family friend $1,000 to open the first Subway Sandwiches and Salads Shop. This endeavor grew to two stores the next year, sixteen shops by 1973, and individual franchise sales by the mid-1970s. By January 2008 there were 28,773 Subway restaurants in eighty-six countries. He established a foundation devoted to enhancing the quality of life in communities in North and South America, as well as an endowment to support cancer research programs. He has a particular interest in the National Museum of Natural History of the Smithsonian Institution, and the Peter Buck Chair in Human Origins there fosters scientific research in paleoanthropology.

YVON CHOUINARD
DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS (L.H.D.)

Yvon Chouinard is the founder, president, and CEO of Patagonia, Inc., a leader in the field of outdoor clothing and gear. A native of Lisbon, Maine, he is a pioneering climber and manufacturer of climbing equipment who participated in a number of first ascents, including the North American Wall on El Capitan in Yosemite without the use of fixed ropes. His book Climbing Ice (1978) and his climbing tools are credited with starting the modern sport of ice climbing. Launched in 1972, Patagonia reflects Chouinard's environmental and social activism. The company continually seeks ways to minimize the environmental impacts associated with the manufacture, packaging, use, and discard of its products. In 2001 he co-founded One Percent for the Planet to support grassroots organizations committed to environmental protection. He is the author of Let My People Go Surfing: The Education of a Reluctant Businessman (2005), which outlines Patagonia's business philosophy of encouraging creativity and healthy lifestyles among its employees.

GINA KOLATA
DOCTOR OF LETTERS (LITT.D.)

Gina Kolata has reported on science and medicine for The New York Times since 1987. Before joining The Times, she was a senior writer for Science, and she has written numerous freelance articles for a wide variety of magazines. In her news articles and books she makes accessible to a wide audience the results of scientific research and the social, political, economic, and environmental issues raised by scientific inquiry. She was a Pulitzer Prize finalist in investigative reporting in 2000. Her books include Clone: The Road to Dolly, and the Path Ahead (1997), Ultimate Fitness: The Quest for Truth about Exercise and Health (2003), and Rethinking Thin: The New Science of Weight Loss—and the Myths and Realities of Dieting (2007), which was recently nominated for a 2008 James Beard Foundation Award. A native of Baltimore, Maryland, she graduated from the University of Maryland and studied molecular biology at MIT before returning to Maryland to earn her master's degree in applied mathematics.

LUCY R. LIPPARD
DOCTOR OF ARTS (D.A.)

Lucy Lippard is an internationally known art and cultural critic, curator, and activist who has made an enduring mark on the world of art, feminist scholarship, and our understanding of cultural geography. Born in New York City, she graduated from Smith College and earned her M.A. at the Institute of Fine Arts at New York University. She is the author/editor of more than twenty books, including On the Beaten Track: Tourism, Art, and Place (1999) and The Lure of the Local: Senses of Place in a Multicentered Society (1998). She has curated more than fifty exhibitions in the United States, Europe, and Latin America. For thirty years she has worked with artists' groups such as the Artworks' Coalition, Ad Hoc Women Artists, Artists Meeting for Cultural Change, The Alliance for Cultural Democracy, and Women's Action Coalition. She is co-founder of artists' organizations such as Printed Matter, The Heresies Collective, Political Art Documentation/Distribution, and Artists Call Against U.S. Intervention in Central America.

EARLE G. SHETTLEWORTH JR.
DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS (L.H.D.)

Earle Shettleworth Jr. is the director of the Maine Historic Preservation Commission and is the Maine State Historic Preservation Officer. A native of Portland, Maine, and a graduate of Colby College, he earned his master's degree at Boston University, where he held the first fellowship of the Society for the Preservation of New England Antiquities. He has played an important role in the preservation of Maine's architectural, historical, and archaeological heritage for more than forty years. He became the Maine Historic Preservation Commission's architectural historian in 1973 and has been its director since 1976. He is currently the longest actively serving state historic preservation officer in the United States. He is the author of numerous books on Maine's social and architectural history, and delivers an average of thirty lectures a year. The lecture hall at the Maine Historical Society is named for him. Bowdoin College has sought his wise counsel on numerous occasions.

BARRY N. WISH '63
DOCTOR OF HUMANE LETTERS (L.H.D.)

Trustee Emeritus Barry N. Wish has been a leader in the worlds of finance and philanthropy. Born in Boston, he attended law school at Boston College. He began his career with Merrill Lynch & Co., as a vice president and director at First Devonshire Corp., then as partner and shareholder at Kidder, Peabody & Co. He formed the New York investment arbitrage firm, Walsh Greenwood Wish & Co., in 1979. He sold his interest in the firm in 1983, and founded the Oxford Financial Group. He is currently chairman emeritus and active board member of the successor company, Ocwen Financial Corp. The Barry N. Wish Scholarship was established at Bowdoin in his honor, and Wish established both the Sidney Wish and Bertha Wish Sipkin Scholarship Fund and the Barry N. Wish Professorship in Social Studies. Classes and performances in Wish Theater are daily reminders of the many ways in which he has encouraged and inspired the Bowdoin community.

ACADEMIC APPAREL

The formal academic attire that distinguishes faculty and graduates at academic ceremonies is a symbol at once vertical and horizontal. It stretches back into history, to the roots of academic institutions, while at the same time it forms a bond of union among contemporary academic scholars.

The gown, cap, and hood, which would certainly seem quaint today if worn on our city streets, were originally the ordinary apparel of our medieval ancestors. The gowns varied in elegance according to the rank and wealth of the owners, and the hood had the practical function of being pulled over the head for warmth. Many of the medieval universities had strict rules on the subject; at Oxford, for example, the master of arts had to swear that he owned the dress prescribed for his degree and that he would wear it on all proper occasions. Undergraduates were required to wear their gowns whenever they appeared in the public street. After the sixteenth century in Europe different styles prevailed, but the older style was retained for certain legal, official, clerical, and, especially, academic uses.

In America the gown has been used to some extent since colonial times. It was only in the late nineteenth century, however, that widespread interest—sparked perhaps by the observance in 1886 of the 250th anniversary of the founding of Harvard—brought about several developments. In 1887 an enterprising member of the graduating class of Williams College designed academic gowns for the graduates to wear at the Commencement ceremony. The garb was significant and dignified; it was both traditional and democratic; it answered a need, and it quickly became popular. In 1895 an intercollegiate code, standardizing the design and the color of each part of the academic regalia, was accepted by nearly all American colleges and universities.

The gown is usually black, and the cut of the sleeves differs for bachelors, masters, and doctors. In addition, the doctor's gown has panels of velvet (usually black) down the front and on the sleeves.

The cap is generally black, with a tassel, which is either black or the color of the field of study; a doctor's may be gold. The most common style of cap is the Oxford "mortar board," with a square flat top, but some variations are permitted.

The hood is the most distinctive part of the costume. It is made of black and trimmed with velvet. Both the length of the hood and the width of the trim vary with the level of the degree, the doctor's being the longest and having the widest velvet border. The color of the velvet indicates the field of study in which the degree is earned: for example, white for arts and letters (bachelor of arts), dark blue for philosophy, brown for fine arts, golden yellow for science, scarlet for theology. The lining of the hood is the color and style of the university that confers the degree; these are all specified in the standard code of the American Council on Education. Bowdoin College's lining is white and green to symbolize the Bowdoin pines.

Whatever the degree or university, those who don the gown and hood symbolically take their places in the long procession of scholars who have pursued truth and learning and passed it on to others. The consciousness of that fellowship is at once a reward for past efforts and an inspiration for the future.

RAISE SONGS TO BOWDOIN

Words by K. C. M. Sills, Class of 1901

New Lyrics by Anthony Antolini '63

Music by C. T. Burnett

Arr. by Thornton W. Allen

Raise songs to Bowdoin, praise her fame,
And sound abroad her glorious name;
To Bowdoin, Bowdoin lift your song,
And may the music echo long
O'er whispering pines and campus fair
With sturdy might filling the air.
Bowdoin, from birth, our nurturer and friend
To thee we pledge our love again, again.

While now amid thy halls we stay
And breathe thy spirit day by day,
Oh may we thus full worthy be
To march in that proud company
Of poets, leaders and each one
Who brings thee fame by deeds well done.
Bowdoin, from birth, our nurturer and friend
To thee we pledge our love again, again.
