

Default Question Block

What's your Prolific ID?

How do you feel about Republicans? (0 = coldest; 100 = warmest)

Suppose we ask a random Republican, Joe, how he feels about Democrats, also scale of 0-100, and that Joe says: 25.

Suppose we then ask Joe a series of questions measuring his knowledge of issues that Joe agrees are relevant to how he feels about Democrats. We also ask Joe how many of the questions he thinks he knows the answer to.

Suppose Joe thinks he knows the answer to five of the questions--but actually gets fewer than five answers correct. This indicates Joe didn't understand Democrats as well as he thought he did.

Would you agree that if Joe is informed about these wrong answers, then even he should admit he probably shouldn't feel so coldly toward Democrats, and should give them a feeling score higher than 25?

- Yes
- No

Block 1

Ok, we're next going to ask you a few questions on 7 political issues.

- I read the above.

"Sexism still exists in America." Republicans' opinions on this statement:

- are relevant to how I feel about Republicans
- are not relevant to how I feel about Republicans

"Racism still exists in America." Republicans' opinions on this statement:

- are relevant to how I feel about Republicans
- are not relevant to how I feel about Republicans

"Properly controlled immigration can be good for America." Republicans' opinions on this statement:

- are relevant to how I feel about Republicans
- are not relevant to how I feel about Republicans

"Donald Trump is a flawed person." Republicans' opinions on this statement:

- are relevant to how I feel about Republicans
- are not relevant to how I feel about Republicans

"People are right to be concerned about how climate change might affect us." Republicans' opinions on this statement:

- are relevant to how I feel about Republicans
- are not relevant to how I feel about Republicans

"Many Muslims are good Americans." Republicans' opinions on this statement:

- are relevant to how I feel about Republicans
- are not relevant to how I feel about Republicans

"The government should do more to stop guns from getting into the hands of bad people." Republicans' opinions on this statement:

- are relevant to how I feel about Republicans
- are not relevant to how I feel about Republicans

knowledge

Now we're going to ask your estimated percentage of Republicans who agree with the following opinions.

- I read the above.

"Sexism still exists in America." I would estimate:

- Less than 25% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Between 25% and 50% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Between 50% and 75% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Greater than 75% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- I don't know

"Racism still exists in America." I would estimate:

- Less than 25% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Between 25% and 50% of Republicans agree with this opinion

- Between 50% and 75% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Greater than 75% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- I don't know

"Properly controlled immigration can be good for America." I would estimate:

- Less than 25% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Between 25% and 50% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Between 50% and 75% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Greater than 75% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- I don't know

"Donald Trump is a flawed person." I would estimate:

- Less than 25% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Between 25% and 50% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Between 50% and 75% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Greater than 75% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- I don't know

"People are right to be concerned about how climate change might affect us." I would estimate:

- Less than 25% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Between 25% and 50% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Between 50% and 75% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Greater than 75% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- I don't know

"Many Muslims are good Americans." I would estimate:

- Less than 25% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Between 25% and 50% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Between 50% and 75% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Greater than 75% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- I don't know

"The government should do more to stop guns from getting into the hands of bad people." I would estimate:

- Less than 25% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Between 25% and 50% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Between 50% and 75% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- Greater than 75% of Republicans agree with this opinion
- I don't know

