BOWDOIN FACULTY SCHOLARSHIP

PURPOSE:
This award is offered to enhance the quality of the academic and intellectual experience of Faculty Scholars by encouraging enrichment opportunities such as research, independent study, career-related internship, and service learning or community engagement.

AWARD:
Bowdoin College will award $3,000 to Faculty Scholars to help fund enrichment opportunities during the course of their tenure in the College. The stipend may also be used to pay expenses and/or cover foregone earnings during the experience. The stipend can be used at any time between first year matriculation and graduation if the student is enrolled and in “good standing.” Students receiving financial aid may request a waiver of the summer earnings expectation for one summer if they are pursuing an enrichment project. Enrichment opportunities cannot receive Bowdoin credit.

REQUIREMENTS:
The enrichment proposals and stipend request must be made in writing to the program administrator, Elizabeth H Palmer. Students may apply to draw from their stipend at different periods during their tenure. The total support may not exceed $3,000, and must include the following documents:

1. Proposal: The proposal will contain explicit information about how this academic and intellectual experience will enhance the student’s educational goals at Bowdoin College.

2. Budget: Provide an itemized budget that explains how the funds will be utilized to enhance the educational experience. Travel expenses may be included.

PROCESS:

1. Payment: The funds will be disbursed in one installment. The check can be in the form of a direct deposit or mailed directly to an address provided by the Faculty Scholar. Please indicate whether the check will be direct deposited or sent by mail.

2. Deadline: Proposals must be submitted to the Office of Special Academic Programs for approval at least six weeks before the start date of the experience.

3. Approval: The Office of Special Academic Programs must approve each Faculty Scholar’s proposal prior to embarking on the educational experience.

Reflection Essay: At the completion of the project all Faculty Scholars are required to write a one-page reflection essay about their experience.
