

Declining (Dispositioning) Candidates

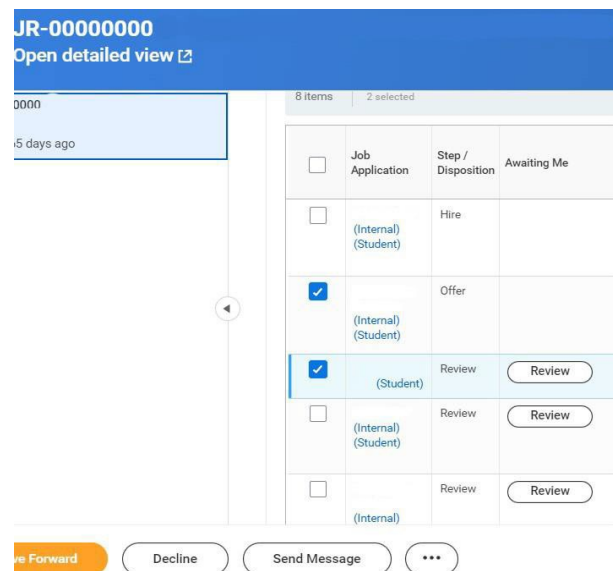

Once you have filled all the positions in your job requisition and are ready to finish your recruitment process, you will need to decline any remaining active candidates who were not offered a job.

To disposition a candidate, navigate to the Recruiting Dashboard, then select the job requisition that you are declining candidates from.

Then navigate to the bottom of the page, click on Decline. Alternatively, you can decline from the individual candidate profile. Click on the candidate's name to access the profile.
