

BOWDOIN FACULTY SCHOLARSHIP

Purpose:

This award is offered to enhance the quality of the academic and intellectual experience of Faculty Scholars by encouraging enrichment opportunities such as research, independent study, career-related internships, and service learning or community engagement.

Award:

Bowdoin College will award $3,000 to Faculty Scholars to help fund enrichment opportunities during the course of their tenure with the College. The award may be used at any time between first year matriculation and graduation, as long as the student is currently enrolled and “in good standing.” Students receiving financial aid may request a waiver of the summer earnings expectation for one summer if they are pursuing an enrichment project. Enrichment opportunities cannot receive Bowdoin credit. Students may apply to receive their award in one lump sum or at different periods during their tenure. The total request may not exceed $3,000.

Please note that all approved educational experiences are subject to Bowdoin College’s rules and regulations governing good academic standing and dishonesty. Awards are not available during disciplinary, voluntary, academic, or medical leaves of absence, nor after the student has graduated.

How to Apply:

Applications should be submitted several weeks before the start of a student’s enrichment experience. If approved, funds will be distributed to the student as direct deposit within two to three weeks.

Application materials include:

1. Application Form (see next page)
2. Proposal: One-page proposal explaining how this academic and intellectual experience will enhance the student’s educational goals at Bowdoin and beyond.
3. Budget: Provide an itemized budget that details how these funds will be used, such as for travel expenses, room and board, supplies, equipment, etc.
